This map is intended to be used for general purposes only. The topographic base map was compiled at a scale of 1:63,360, or 1 inch representing 1 mile. It is therefore not suitable for highly precise positioning or uses which require a high degree of positional accuracy.

Boundaries and land ownership parcels depicted on this map were compiled from multiple sources, at multiple scales with various levels of accuracy, and are therefore only a graphic representation of the true legal descriptions. For accurate legal descriptions of parcel boundaries, consult the Bureau of Land Management-Alaska Region, or the State of Alaska Department of Natural Resources Recorder's Office.

It is the map user's responsibility to ascertain their position with respect to public versus private land. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service shall therefore not be held accountable or responsible for any possible trespass on private land by users of this map.

Land Status Notes

Selected refers to parcels of public land that have been chosen by an individual, organization, or the State of Alaska for possible transfer to private or State of Alaska ownership. Selected land within the external National Wildlife Refuge boundaries remains under the management jurisdiction of the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service.

Conveyed refers to parcels of public land that have been patented or otherwise legally transferred into private or State of Alaska ownership. Entry upon conveyed land requires approval from the land owner.

With the exception of Federal Submerged Land, ownership of submerged land beneath inland waters is not shown or implied on this map.
